NOTE NEW CALL IN NUMBER

Sam -- got this from UEC's lobbyist, who i talked to briefly on Sunday morning.

Is this a correct description of where we are? I think we have a call scheduled for tomorrow and perhaps can discuss further then.

Bob,

Thanks again for your time on Sunday morning. We had a very productive meeting with Region 6 and appear to have identified a potential path forward.

At the request of the Region, UEC is going to put forward a new proposal that moves up the southern boundary of the proposed aquifer exemption and removes the two wells of greatest concern. UEC is going to present the new proposal to TCEQ in the next 24-48 hours. Sam Coleman said that the Region will try to turn around the new proposal within 30 days. He also said that the request for modeling would no longer be needed if UEC can remove the wells of greatest concern and provide sufficient data to show that the wells up-dip draw from the opposite direction from the proposed AE area.

Thanks again for your help on this. We look forward to continuing to discuss ways we can build a stronger relationship between EPA and the industry.

Ben -- I'm flying to Boston tonight at 5:30 and will be tied up early in the am. If we could connect this morning, that would be best.

Thanks again for agreeing to participate (by phone) in Monday's meeting between EPA Region 6, TCEQ, and the Uranium Energy Corporation (UEC). As we have indicated in the past, UEC remains committed to continuing to resolve outstanding questions and to find a path forward for the project in Goliad County, Texas.

Below is the conference call information and attached please find an agenda and other materials prepared by Region 6.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.
